FROM THE CEO/EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Finding a career that promotes creativity and empowers personal choice and growth while touching the lives of people where they live is what interior design means to those of us who have chosen this as our life's work.

I feel so privileged to have gained the knowledge and experience to touch many people's lives with my creativity and gifts and provide beautiful spaces that people appreciate and that add value to their homes and life.

As I've grown in my life and career, I have longed to share the lessons learned with others and to empower them to pursue their personal career passions and experience the joy of working with others to make the world a more beautiful place. The greatest reward for me is the appreciation of those I've worked with. I love helping people grow and thrive personally and professionally.

EDUCATION GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The goal of the Heritage School of Interior Design Interior Custom Design Program is to prepare you for success in a career as an interior design professional which includes self-employment as an independent Interior Custom Designer, sales, or service.

Interior Designers work with the spatial organization, colors, patterns, textures and harmony that define the space in which we live and work. Students of the program learn how to combine these elements to create a mood and style that expresses the individual desires and style of the client. The program focus is on existing interior spaces for residential and light commercial settings.

The instructional design program (288 clock hours of instruction) is personalized to ensure a learning environment in which professional goals can be met. While the development of design and sales skills are the primary focus, we believe that other areas deserve equal attention. Customer service, communication skills and styles, professional practices, business procedures, product knowledge, presentation strategies and paperwork are covered throughout the program. In order to meet these objectives, a highly individualized mode of instruction with limited enrollment of 20 students is offered. This creates a learning environment that encourages a professional attitude and habits and meets the individual needs of each student. A complete curriculum outline is available on the website and on the following pages.

The instructors for this program are registered with the Higher Education Coordinating Commission and are well prepared through ongoing education and professional experience.

Interior Custom Design Program Overview

EDUCATION OVERVIEW

The Fundamentals of Interior Design program is scheduled for 12 weeks (Weekday Program) or 18 weeks (Saturday Program or Evening Program) of classroom "hands-on" participation and study. We encourage time in class for review, questions and student dialogue. We strive to create an open learning environment, providing students with immediate feedback and personal attention.

Weekday and Saturday students have a morning and afternoon break with an hour for lunch.

Evening Program students have a 30 minute break midway through. Students may bring their lunch and use the school's refrigerator and microwave. There are many restaurants in the area near the school.

This program requires some independent study. Approximately 10-15 hours per week should be set aside for outside study and project work. The homework increases toward the last weeks of instruction. Heritage provides the necessary supplies and resources for design projects as well as check out privileges from the school library.

Note: Please do not take on any unnecessary obligations that would create stress while attending school. This education should be your primary focus and not complicated with outside activities.

The Professional Certification Program includes completion of the Fundamentals of Interior Design Program plus selected supplemental courses listed on page 6. It is the most comprehensive instruction offered through Heritage School of Interior Design.

Please refer to our catalog addendum for more detailed information about all programs and courses, including tuition and fees, dates and times. This information is subject to change on a quarterly basis and is updated regularly in the addendum.

ANGIE MORSE, INSTRUCTOR

Angie Morse is an award winning interior designer and home stager based in SW Portland. As a sixth generation Oregonian, Angie grew up in Bend with parents who were "house flippers" long before it was mainstream. Living in ever evolving homes, she experienced first hand the possibilities within each home and saw that transformations were only limited by ones imagination, a creative budget, and how far Dad could test Mom's patience.

Angie holds a BA in Journalism/Public Relations from the University of Oregon and is a graduate of the Heritage School of Interior Design. She is also a certified consultant with Dewey Color and Color with Confidence and has won awards for interior design, professional organization, color usage, home staging, redesign, and has been named Interior Design Society's Designer of the Year nationally for window treatments and holiday design.

Angie is a proponent of sharing knowledge, giving back to peers, and inspiring new designers. She believes that the profession is much stronger by fostering a community of camaraderic versus competition and that is reflected in her involvement with various design related associations. Angie is recognized as a RESA-Pro by the Real Estate Staging Association and has also served on the Portland RESA Chapter Board and the IRIS (Interior Redesign Industry Specialists) National Board of Directors. She is currently serving her sixth year on the Board of Directors of the Portland Chapter of the Interior Design Society (IDS) as immediate Past President and Chair of the Swatched event committee.

A familiar face in the halls of Heritage, Angie has been educating our students in the craft of Professional Home Staging for the past few years. She is excited for her expanded role as an integral part of the Heritage team. She is continually impressed by the School's progressive approach to education, focused learning, and spirited collaboration among staff.

REYNA BADILLO, ADVISOR

Reyna Badillo has always admired art and fashion and she grew up in an environment where she learned a lot about the beauty of wood. She channeled her passion and knowledge for design into her own business, Summit Wood Creations, which specializes in custom, craftsman style furniture made from sustainable raw materials. After successfully running her business for 15 years, she wanted the opportunity to be more creative. She felt that her vision was limited to furniture and she wanted to be able to help her clients create a cohesive look in their home. She decided to take that next step by becoming more educated in interior design and enrolled at Heritage School of Interior Design. After graduating from Heritage, she had all the tools she needed to make her dream come true. Reyna now has her own manufacturing company which produces her line of sustainable furniture and she also offers interior design services. Her line of furniture includes custom kitchen cabinets, dining tables, bedroom furniture and more. She is committed to sourcing local wood and environmentally-friendly production practices. Her team draws inspiration from the inherent, natural beauty and rough, untamed texture of raw materials.
